About The Book

This book is a compilation of summaries that describe the programmes that have been run by the academics and students at the Faculty of Education, Universiti Teknologi MARA. The main objective of the programmes is to create a platform for the faculty members to take part in social innovation projects in the local community. More importantly, the programmes also complement the students' regular class experience as they also can learn a range of skills that can make them more active socially and entrepreneurially.

Definition of social innovation:

Social innovations are new ideas that meet social needs, create social relationships and form new collaborations. These innovations can be products, services or models addressing unmet needs more effectively.

20. Latihan Kesukarelawan Projek Promosi Kesihatan (Skwad MySihat) Siri 1/2019.

What

This programme is a skill enhancement opportunity targeting students from public universities and NGOs to act as volunteers for My Sihat to promote healthy lifestyle among members of the community. A series of workshops were conducted to improve skills and knowledge of physical activities, healthy diet, body composition, volunteering, and event management. The programme was organised by Lembaga Promosi Kesihatan Malaysia, Kementerian kesihatan Malaysia

Who

A total of three students from the Department of Physical and Health Education out of the overall 45 participants were involved as participants and one Physical and Health Education lecturer was appointed as a speaker for the workshop.

When

The programme was held on 26 – 28 April 2019.

Where

The programme was conducted at Hotel Geno, Subang Jaya.

Story

MySihat introduced a special programme to recruit volunteers from among higher learning institutions students and NGO members to promote healthy lifestyle in the community. Therefore, several workshops have been conducted to provide knowledge and skills to MySihat volunteers. After completing the workshops, the volunteers are expected to be able to run a healthy lifestyle programme to the communities with the support of MySihat.

Beneficiaries/ Stakeholders

The programme has provided a platform for the students of the Faculty Education as MySihat Volunteers. Students who volunteered will gain a lot of benefits, including better time management, leadership skill, problem-solving, opportunities to meet new people, satisfaction from having helped others and improved mental well-being. The health promotion community service can be a service-learning for teacher education students to engage with people in communities. The education elements in the health promotion programme, such as coaching and tutoring, can provide students with an opportunity to act as a teacher.

Key lessons

The workshops have contributed knowledge, skill, and experience on how to conduct healthy lifestyle activities. Apart from that, as future Physical and Health Education teachers, it is essential for them to gain knowledge about health promotion, to implement such activities in the school or communities setting. As a MySihat volunteer, students can assist the agency in promoting healthy lifestyle on campus as well as strengthening their skills and knowledge related to health promotion.
