The TED-style talk held at the SUDI Cafeteria, UiTM CPP, garnered the interest of members of the university community who were aptly present during lunchtime. It brought forth ideas that encouraged people in academia to reflect on the significance of upskilling, strategic collaboration and visibility.

The value of teamwork was highlighted through the emphasis on linkages creation by inspiring them to accomplish greater heights together and fostering a sense of camaraderie. Moreover, moving forward in the digital arena, exhibiting and expressing one's work via digital platforms is without a doubt an essence of the future. Overall, the event has amplified a sense of hope and empowerment to unleash the true potential of individuals.
