ABSTRACT

Sport complex or place for the communities to channel their energy is one of the significant elements of liveable cities. Recreational and gathering space like sport complex in a community is important to imbued a positive emotional experience and it must to be contained with human attachment and caring for the place while it will naturally create social bonding among the local communities and neighbourhood users. Beside that sport can make us stay healthy longer when the community recreation centres offer many programs that help benefit both the body and the mind. Studies have shown that people who exercise regularly have lower blood pressure, lower heart disease rates, and overall increased longevity.

Among that that, Sport complex also play roles in cultural diversity. Sometimes, cultural differences can cause some problems in community relations and in workplaces. Participating in group activities can help to increase cohesion in both the community and the workplace. Sports tourism also brings more cultural diversity to many types of different events. However, when Sports complex is located in polluted environment, it will bring the negative side effects to its users. So, with injecting the Ecological Landscape Design approaches in the area of sport complex is very necessary because these approaches will balance the existing ecosystem diversity with social interactions, beside that it will also diverse the unity to keep human engage with nature and environment

CHAPTER 1: INTRODUCTION TO TOPIC

1.1 INTRODUCTION

Seremban 2 is one of the satellite city in Malaysia, located about 4 kilometres Southeast from of Seremban town centre in the District of Seremban, Negeri Sembilan, Malaysia. It was formally built by the developers of IJM Land. Located on the Western side of the North-South Expressway, Seremban 2 is a planned city built at the previous site of the former oil palm plantations. It was established with a view to resettling the property, business services, housing, education and recreation in Negeri Sembilan. This is to meet the basic needs of local communities in terms of economic, environmental and also social interaction. The new settlement built in Seremban 2 is Green Street Homes, Sri Carcosa, Central Park, Emerald Park, Garden Homes, Garden Avenue, Garden City Homes, Vision Homes, S2 Heights, Park Avenue, Seremban 2 City Centre. In addition, there are also several recreational areas built in accordance with the housing development as Kiddle Garden, Matrix fitness, Green Technology Park as well as the S2 City Park. Unfortunately, in all new construction will definitely have residual old to be neglected. The areas that have been neglected physically is Centrio square Seremban 2 and also Sport Complex Tan Sri Dato HJ Mohd Said, Seremban 2. This is because of lack of maintenance by the District Council (SAC) Seremban Municipal Council and also a few factors of other relevant issues that have been caused this sport complex has become abandoned space.
