

HEAVEN

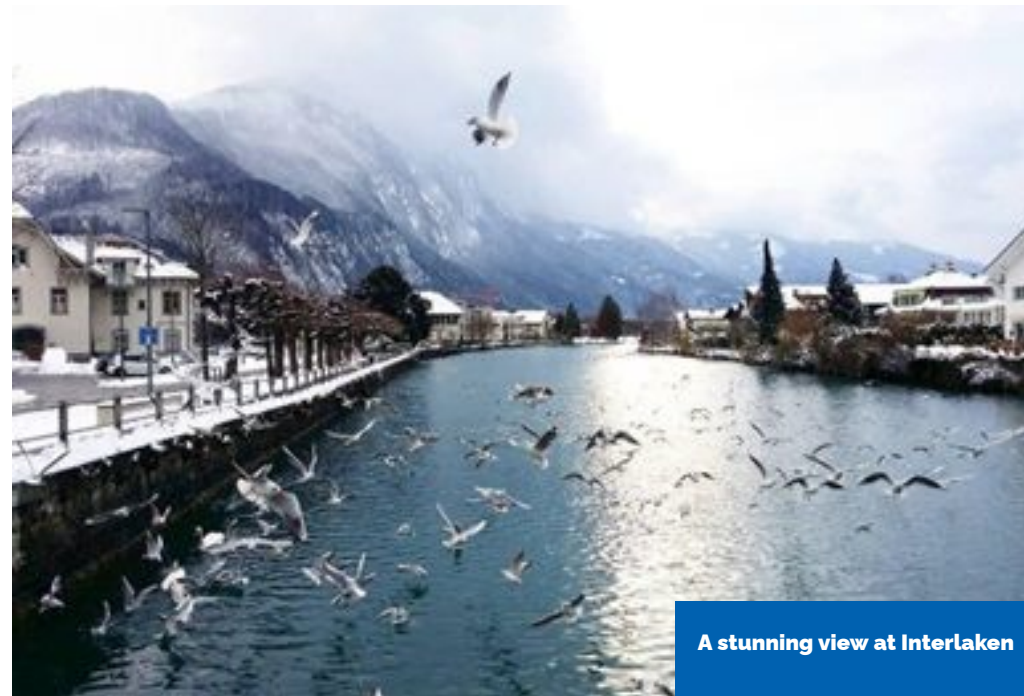

on Earth

By Nur Husna Serip Mohamad

Switzerland is a country famous for its natural beauty. Thus, it is really not misleading to call it heaven on earth! It is definitely one of the most suitable countries to visit during holidays. Personally, I love to visit Switzerland during Winter. In fact, I have been to Switzerland twice to enjoy the snow with my friends and family. With my friends, we explored Zurich, Interlaken, Lauterbrunnen, Grindelwald, Lucerne, Berne and Zermatt. However, I had to skip Zermatt while travelling with my family due to the distance, and since my brother sprained his ankle, a few days before our Europe trip. In both trips, walking around Grindelwald and Interlaken with Christmas decorations and ginger breads gives me a feeling of walking in a Fairy tale land, where Santa and the elves hide.

Interlaken and Grindelwald are both charming alpine towns with many activities to do. For me, both places are suitable for you to relax and meditate. My friends and I stayed in Interlaken before continuing our journey to the Jungfrau region. We also had a nice time playing on top of Mount Titlis. At night, the starry skies in this country made me feel like the stars were within my hand's reach, almost touching them. Very near to you. Other than the scenery, the most favourite thing I enjoyed in Switzerland is its patisseries, especially bread filled with vanilla cream. I am glad I got the opportunity to visit such a beautiful country, as Allah said in the Quran [55:13] "Then which of your Lord's favours will you deny?".

A stunning view at Interlaken

Grindelwald