ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First and foremost, thank you to Allah S.W.T for empowering us when we nearly lost the path, ideas, and time to prepare and finish this research paper. To complete this research paper, we need a lot of guidance and assistance from many people such as lecturers, parents, family, friends, and students of UiTM Seremban, Negeri Sembilan.

We would like to express our gratitude to our supervisor, Sir Mohammad Bastyan Bin Mahmud who taught us many things about research and always give positive mind-set. We learn a valuable lesson about research in action. Things did not go as expected or planned. We must adjust, but these adjustments must be justified and qualified. Thank you for the support, patience, and ideas in assisting us with this project.

We have tried as best as we can to gather information as well as going through different journal, article, newspaper, websites, and internets to ensure we provide in detail about our research topics without leaving any gap between them. However, we do not claim our research papers are perfect and have enough information, but we are satisfied with our work because we have tried the best. In addition, we do our research in Online Distance Learning (ODL) which is more difficult for us to complete the task.

Deepest thank to our parents for non-stop encouragement, attention, and support in terms of moral. We also want to take this opportunity to thank to our friends and classmates for helping us during our difficult time to complete this research paper. Overall, we want to thank and appreciate all the parties that involve in completing this research paper plus giving us a few minutes to explain on how to do a great research paper.
