ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Accomplishing this research was a difficult task for us. Nevertheless, we have the assistance of many people who have contributed to the accomplishment of this work. Those parties engaged in the completing this project kept us motivated and on track even when things did not go as planned.

We also want to voice our special thanks, Madam Suzei binti Mat Nurudin@Nordin, who explained us too many aspects about the study and always had a good attitude despite the fact that he did not warn us that it'd be tough. We learn an important lesson about conducting research. Things did not proceed as planned or as intended. We must make changes, but these changes must be justified and qualified. Thank you for all the assistance, dedication, and suggestions in completing this project.

Finally, this study pertains to our family for having the vision and commitment to educate us. We would want to thank God Almighty for such benefits, Alhamdulillah. We will never have completed this study adequately.
