ABSTRACT

Every individual requires education in order to get information. As a result, insurance and takaful companies have developed an education plan to assist children in saving and investing enough money to continue their education in the future. Muslims are compelled to participate in education takaful schemes since they are Shariah compliant. Takaful products are free of banned elements in Islam, unlike traditional insurance. Despite this, teachers at SMK Kuala Kubu Bharu still have a low level of knowledge about education takaful. The purpose of this study is to examine and investigate the difficulties surrounding teachers' lack of knowledge about education takaful at SMK Kuala Kubu Bharu. The goals of this study are to determine Muslims' and non-Muslims' attitudes toward conventional and takaful insurances, to determine the level of awareness of education takaful among teachers at SMK Kuala Kubu Bharu, and to offer solutions on how to raise Muslims' and non-Muslims' awareness of education takaful. The qualitative method was applied in this study's analysis. A small number of respondents were chosen to be interviewed in a semi-structured interview to get results and personal opinions on the subject. The interviews would be conducted by three takaful agents and eight teachers who had consented to participate. The findings of this study show that education takaful SMK Kuala Kubu Bharu still has a poor degree of awareness, and that a few remedies may be implemented based on the interviews that were done.
