Next, I would like to say thank you to my beloved and wonderful family for giving support to I from the initial stage until the final stage of the research. It surely helps a lot in gaining motivation and prevent I from become depress. Besides that, I also wants to give gratitude of appreciation to mine beloved lecturer and advisor, Madam Ruziah binti Abd Latiff for providing and giving a lot of guidance when doing this research. Without the guidance from her, surely I will not be able to understand the research and finish it on time. Lastly, I would like to say thank you to all my friends for giving advice and teach me on things that I don't know and give some ideas to me in order to deliver a good research.

ABSTRACT

Stock market is one of the indicators of a country's economic growth. The movements of stock market return are based on several variables. Different countries will have different variables that affect the movement of stock market return. The stock market return in Malaysia shows fluctuation from the month of January 2007 to March 2014 and this volatility attract the researcher's attention to examine the variables that affect the movements of stock market performance in Malaysia. The aim of this study is to find the impacts of macroeconomics variables on stock market return. The samples for this study are monthly data taken from the period of January 2007 until March 2014. In order to examine the relationship between the selected macroeconomic variables with stock return, multiple regressions analysis is performed using e-views software. The dependant variable for this study is Malaysia stock market return (KLCI) while independent variables are as follows; Inflation (CPI), Gold Price, Money Supply, Interest Rate and Exchange Rate. The results indicate that there is a co-integration between the macroeconomic variables and KLCI. The result of this study is hoped to help investors make good investment decisions.
