ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

In the name of Allah, the Most Gracious and the Most Merciful.

All glory be to Allah, who has provided us with the power and knowledge to fulfill our task. This assignment is part of my Principles of Entrepreneurship course. This task has been quite beneficial and a valuable learning experience for us.

we want to thank our supportive professor, Madam Norfazlina Ghazali, for providing us with helpful guidelines and unwavering support in a variety of ways. Also, please advise us on many aspects of the assignment.

We put together a lot of effort into this project. However, it would not have been workable without the guidance and support of our parents and family. They also provided me with many ideas and assisted me in a variety of ways. I would like to thank my mother and family for their cooperation and encouragement, which helped me in finishing the project. Finally, this assignment has taught me many things, particularly how to enter the corporate world and how to adapt to the ever-changing market and environment to become successful people.

Executive Summary

The principle of Entrepreneurship subject is compulsory for students in semester 4. In this assignment, each of the students is required to choose a product as their business and compose social media portfolio through a Facebook page as the platform to run the online marketing campaign. This is the pair project I made, Khairin Syaheeda Bt Ismail and my partner Nursyamimi Bt Mohd. Nornafiah.

By utilizing Facebook for marketing, we have to provide the created Facebook page, customize the URL Facebook page, teaser posting, copywriting on the hard sell and soft sell, and support the posting with good graphics for online marketing.

We as students are also required to register in the go-eCommerce system to get access to the online module by MDEC. Lecturers also have to register go-eCommerce portal to enable the student to choose the name of the lecturer who taught when filling up the go-eCommerce. Besides that, we also registered our business in SSM and MyENT.

4. INTRODUCTION OF BUSINESS

4.1 Name and address of the business

The company name Kromarainz Design & Arts is created based on the combination of Kroma (Based on the Greek word Chroma which means color) and rainz (Based on the word 'rain' and also 'rinse' in pronunciation for the word 'rainz'). While Design & Arts is to show the product that we sell our handmade art & designs.

The purpose of choosing this name is to let our creative idea flow like a color that blends and rinse each other into creative products that bring inspiration and also fun at the same time. Using the combination of the two words becoming a name for the company makes it look unique and memorable. Our tagline is "Keep flowing our imagination into reality" because we are faithfully making a design into art that brings our thoughts come true.

Fun facts about Role-play games.

Role-playing games (RPGs) are a genre of games where players assume the roles of fictional characters and take part in an interactive story or adventure. In these games, players typically create and develop their characters by making choices about their attributes, abilities, and skills. RPGs can also take various forms, including tabletop role-playing games (TRPGs) and video games.

Role-playing games provide an opportunity for players to step into the shoes of their characters, make decisions that shape the story, and experience adventures and challenges in a fictional world. They offer a blend of imagination, storytelling, character development, and strategic gameplay, making them a popular and engaging form of entertainment.

If you wish you want to have one for yourself but didn't know how to start. You can DM us for more!

What's up! It's time to be a nerd to gain more EXP!

So.. what is the class system in role-play games?

The class system in role-playing games (RPGs) is a mechanic that categorizes characters into distinct roles or professions, each with unique abilities, strengths, and weaknesses. The class system is a way to differentiate and specialize characters within the game world, allowing players to choose a specific archetype or play style for their character.

In RPGs, classes often define a character's role in combat or within the game's mechanics. Here are some typical classes found in RPGs:

Warrior/Fighter/Knight: These classes specialize in close combat, wielding weapons and armor to deal with physical damage and withstand attacks. They are often the frontline defenders and excel in strength and durability.

Mage/Wizard/Sorcerer: Magical spellcasters who harness elemental or arcane powers to cast offensive spells, support allies, or manipulate the environment. They typically have a lower physical defense but possess powerful magical abilities.

Ranger/Archer: Skilled with ranged weapons, these characters are often proficient in archery, tracking, and survival. They excel at dealing with damage from a distance and may have abilities related to nature or animal companions.

These are just a few examples, and the specific classes and their abilities can vary depending on the RPG system or game. Some RPGs offer more flexible class systems, allowing players to customize or hybridize classes to create unique character builds.

This is where we can give an opportunity for you. DM us for more information.

Some of you didn't realize why Role-play games be associated with the fantasy genre?

Role-playing games (RPGs) are often associated with the fantasy genre because they commonly feature elements and themes that are prevalent in fantasy literature and folklore.

Here are a few reasons they relate RPGs and fantasy to one another:

Setting and World-Building: Fantasy RPGs often take place in imaginative and fictional worlds filled with magic, mythical creatures, epic quests, and ancient civilizations. These settings allow players to immerse themselves in rich and fantastical environments, exploring vast landscapes and encountering fantastical creatures.

Magic and Supernatural Elements: Fantasy RPGs frequently incorporate magic systems, where characters can wield spells, summon creatures, or manipulate the elements. Magic adds an extra layer of wonder, mystery, and power to the gameplay experience.

Mythical Creatures and Races: RPGs often include a wide variety of mythical creatures and races, such as dragons, elves, dwarves, orcs, and other fantastical beings. These creatures are deeply rooted in fantasy lore and provide opportunities for unique interactions and diverse character options.

Epic Storytelling: Fantasy stories often revolve around grand quests, heroic journeys, and battles between good and evil. RPGs draw inspiration from this narrative structure, allowing players to embark on epic adventures, save the world, and shape the fate of their characters and the game world.

Sense of Escapism: Fantasy RPGs provide players with an escape from reality into a world of imagination and wonder. The fantasy genre offers a departure from the constraints of the everyday world, allowing players to experience extraordinary events and abilities that are not possible in their own lives.

The fantasy elements in RPGs that we provide can contribute to the sense of wonder, adventure, and limitless possibilities that players often seek in their gaming experiences. DM us for more information.

Did you know that Dungeons and Dragons is the pioneer of the RPG genre?

The RPG genre owes a significant debt to the game Dungeons & Dragons (D&D), as it played a pivotal role in shaping and popularizing the genre. Dungeons & Dragons is widely regarded as the first modern tabletop role-playing game, and its influence is evident in subsequent RPGs.

Gary Gygax and Dave Arneson created D&D which was first published in 1974. It introduced a rule-based system that allowed players to create their own characters, explore imaginative worlds, and engage in cooperative storytelling. The game used dice rolls and character sheets to determine outcomes, resolve conflicts, and advance the narrative.

D&D incorporated key elements that have become synonymous with RPGs, such as Class and Level Systems, Dungeon Crawling Adventure Modules, and also Game Master and Player Dynamics.

Dungeons & Dragons' success paved the way for the RPG genre to flourish and inspired countless other tabletop and video game RPGs. It introduced core mechanics and concepts that have become fundamental elements of RPGs across different mediums.

To this day, Dungeons & Dragons remains one of the most iconic and influential RPGs, with multiple editions and an enduring presence in pop culture. Its impact on the genre is profound, and many subsequent RPGs draw inspiration from its innovative gameplay, immersive worlds, and collaborative storytelling.

Overall, we are very thankful to be able on completing this Social Media Portfolio for the subject Principles of Entrepreneurship code ENT530. As a student in this subject, we can manage a product business and promote the business on Facebook as the marketing platform.

Through this assignment, we created online marketing through a Facebook page by using the marketing tools such as Facebook posting. The posting contains teasers, hard sells, and soft sells posting. By doing this, it taught us to be more creative and engage constantly with the customer via social media mainly Facebook.

During completing this assignment, We learned how to manage online marketing, create good content for the marketing, engage with customers, and rising the number of sales constantly to keep the business running well. All in all, we are very proud to have this chance to use our ability and gain extra knowledge aside from our main core subject which is creative game design.
