Dear 2022,

Two years have passed since the pandemic hit the world. We have grown accustomed to Meet and Classroom, so chalk and talk is now a foreign concept. Our lecturers are now online presenters, putting in hours of effort to produce lectures and exercises while managing chores and family commitments. Even when they are concealed behind a camera lens and a microphone, our lecturers are enthusiastic about giving the best education to the next generation of learners. We, the lecturers at APB, are well prepared to face the most recent issues and challenges in the world of teaching and learning, and we will guarantee that our students are achievers who are set to succeed in a world where everything is conducted online.

To end the note for now:

"Whatever the mind can conceive and believe, it can achieve." Napoleon Hill

APB UiTM Negeri Sembilan Kampus Rembau hosted "Language and Culture Week 2022" on May 17, 2022. The annual event started on May 17th and officially ended on May 20. During these three days of events, many competitions and programmes have taken place through Google Meet and Flipgrid. This year's language week was organised by Mrs. Khairon Nisa binti Shafeei.

The first day started with events organised by APB Rembau's English language lecturers; Mrs. Hazwati, Mrs. Khairon Nisa, Mrs. Nur Faathinah, and Miss Nadiah. During the English language slot, many competitions have taken place. Participants were mainly students from the first semester until the third semester. The Tik Tok 60-second Acting Challenge and Product Review Competition took place on Google Meet, whereas the other two competitions were based on students' video submissions.

To continue the slots, the second day was assigned to the Arabic lecturers, where students submitted videos of them speaking and writing in Arabic. Mrs. Mashitah and Mrs. Nur Aini had taken their part in these 2 competitions accordingly. It was not a surprise that students at UiTM are definitely talented, as they delivered their presentations in the third language with ease. On the last day of the competition, our 2 beautiful Mandarin lecturers held 2 competitions, Draw Mandarin and Pertandingan Video Pendek Bahasa Mandarin. Students had sent videos of them using Mandarin in their daily routines, and some joined the other competition where students tested their knowledge on recognising Mandarin words.

All of the competitions went well, and many students have said they would like to see them happen again next year. The week of language fun was ended by a closing ceremony on the 20th of May, where competitors received the results of their efforts.

Pada 2 November 2019, Kelab Bahasa UiTM Kampus Rembau telah menjalankan program Happy Mandarin (Kai Kai Xin Xin Xue Hanyu) di Sekolah Menengah Sains Rembau (SEMESRA). Kelab Bahasa telah mendapat tajaan sebanyak RM4000 daripada Khind Starfish Foundation menerusi program Project for Happiness untuk menjalankan projek khidmat masyarakat ini. Program ini dijalankan oleh penasihat Kelab Bahasa iaitu Dr. Siang Lay Choo serta dibantu oleh Cik Nur Farrah Atiqah, Cik Mandy Lai Chui Mun, PM Dr. Soo Kum Yoke dan Cik Mashitah dari Akademi Pengajian Bahasa (APB). Fasilitator program terdiri daripada 20 orang pelajar Kelab Bahasa yang diketuai oleh Nur Azreen Fatihah. Seramai 120 orang pelajar Tingkatan 1 dan Tingkatan 2 SEMESRA telah menyertai program ini.

Objektif program Happy Mandarin (Kai Kai Xin Xin Xue Hanyu) ini adalah membantu pelajar di SEMESRA memahami budaya kaum Cina melalui permainan yang berkaitan. Program ini sedikit sebanyak membuka mata mereka tentang perbezaan antara budaya orang Melayu dan orang Cina. Program ini juga membawa aktiviti pembelajaran bahasa Mandarin dengan cara yang menyeronokkan dan interaktif. Kelab Bahasa ingin menunjukkan bahawa bahasa Mandarin bukan sahaja boleh dipelajari melalui buku, malah ia lebih senang dikuasai melalui aktiviti bahasa.

Sebelum program ini dijalankan, beberapa siri mesyuarat telah dilakukan bersama ketua projek (Nur Azreen Fatihah), penolong ketua projek (Che Wan Nurfadhlina) serta Koordinator APB (PM Dr. Soo Kum Yoke) mengenai aktiviti yang akan dijalankan serta bajet yang diperlukan untuk merangka kertas kerja. Kertas kerja tersebut mendapat kelulusan daripada Khind Starfish Foundation dengan syarat para fasilitator turut diminta untuk menjana dana khalayak sebanyak 10% daripada RM4000 yang diberikan. Satu sesi Latihan kepada Pelatih (Training of Trainer) diadakan bagi memastikan semua fasilitator yang terlibat mendapat idea dan objektif yang sama dalam menjayakan program ini.

Antara aktiviti yang telah dijalankan sepanjang program ini ialah belajar nombor dalam bahasa Mandarin menerusi pertandingan mengepit kacang menggunakan chopstick, menghias tanglung mengikut tema yang diberikan iaitu tema mencintai alam sekitar, menulis kad ucapan untuk pelbagai jenis perayaan di Malaysia dalam Hanyu Pinyin dan Karakter Cina seperti Kaizhaijie Kuaile 开斋节快乐 (Selamat Hari Raya Aidilfitri), Xinnian Kuaile 新年快乐 (Selamat Tahun Baru Cina), Tuyaojie Kuaile 屠妖节快乐 (Selamat Hari Deepavali), Dabaosenjie Kuaile 大宝森节快乐 (Selamat Hari Thaipusam) serta aktiviti paper cutting perkataan 春 yang membawa maksud musim bunga ataupun permulaan tahun bagi kaum Cina. Akhir sekali, pertandingan nyanyian lagu bahasa Mandarin telah diadakan antara para pelajar SEMESRA. Para pelajar telah diberikan beberapa lagu oleh Puan Hazimah Hani, guru bahasa Mandarin SEMESRA untuk dipilih. Antara lagu tersebut ialah 拔萝卜 (Menuai Lobak), 三轮车 (Beca) dan 两只老虎 (Dua Ekor Harimau). Para pelajar telah mempelajari banyak kosa kata bahasa Mandarin menerusi lagu-lagu tersebut. Mereka telah melakukan persembahan dengan sangat baik, menghiburkan malah terdapat pelajar yang melakukan aksi yang mencuit hati para juri dan penonton.

Room for improvement in online shopping

February 25, 2022 @ 12:00am

Online shopping is part and parcel of the new norm. - NSTP file pic

LETTERS: The pandemic has changed consumer behaviour towards online shopping.

Online shopping is part and parcel of the new norm.

It offers convenience and many choices at a fraction of the time and effort.

The rise of online shopping can also be attributed to large e-business sites, such as Lazada, Shopee, Taobao, Amazon, Mudah and Carousell.

Lazada Malaysia reported a 300 per cent increase in the number of new online sellers since the start of the pandemic.

A Juwai IQI survey reported that 57 per cent of Malaysians were spending more time shopping online than before the pandemic.

Bank Negara reported that online retail sales nearly doubled during the pandemic.

In a survey conducted on students' behaviour towards online shopping at a local university, almost half of them preferred buying beauty products, fashion-related products, games and books online.

The students gave reasons for their preferences, which included time savings, comparisons can be made, shopping can be done throughout the day, stress releaser and lower prices.

However, the study also found that 59 per cent of them were wary of online fraud, 75 per cent were wary of the hassle in the shipment of goods, 87.5 per cent felt the lack of "feel" for the merchandise, and 75 per cent encountered difficulties when returning goods.

So while online shopping is popular, there are improvements that can be done for a better online shopping experience, especially in delivery and shipment, and there should be measures to control online fraud.

Have we overstepped our freedom of expression?

April 16, 2022 @ 12:53pm

File pic

LETTERS: Nowadays, it is easy to voice our opinion on any issue on social media.

People post a lot of things happening around them on the Internet, and when this goes viral, everyone hooked to the Internet can access and share their opinion about it.

This act of sharing opinions or comments seems to have gone out of context since many have failed to consider the sensitivity of the issue that may aggravate the harmony among netizens.

So, how much freedom does one have to express his or her views on social media?

Recently, in practising the freedom to voice one's opinion, an uncalled-for action taken by a popular film star who was offended by a comedian's comment went viral.

And, given the popularity of the star and how it could tarnish his reputation, netizens gave their opinion for and against that act.

Many other embarrassing cases have been exposed on the Internet, whether by academicians, politicians, students, or the ordinary man in the street.

It's bad enough that people start pointing the finger at who is to be blamed for the action.

When we resort to giving our opinions which is so easy these days especially on our smartphones, was it all in the name of harmless fun?

Lack of sensitivity and not getting the full picture before taking sides and opening our mouths to speak our minds may seem like an act of "a call to be heard".

But, we need to stop and consider; could our opinion or comments be a thoughtless gesture after all?

The constitution of Malaysia in Article 10 provides for freedom of expression among Malaysian citizens within the reasonable restriction of not provoking peace, as well as contempt of court, defamation, or incitement of any offence.

Does this give us the right to say anything under the sun? Yet, the voices and opinions of millions can change the way a certain thing is done and move for change.

The same voices or opinions can damage and ruin another person or his career for that matter. That is how strong and powerful one's opinion is, in the name of one's freedom to express one's view and to be heard.

So, perhaps before we post our opinions or views, it is a good idea to step back and think of the consequences before saying anything. It is wiser if we are slow but constructive in our comments.

After all, "if you can't say something nice, don't say anything at all."
