ABSTRACT

This study is to find out facilitator and content as factors that can contribute to the effectiveness of the Student Development Program (PPP) in UiTM Pahang. Questionnaires have been distributed by using systematic sampling technique method to 142 respondents and 92 questionnaires were collected back and others 50 questionnaires were rejected. Data analysis was done by using SPSS version 18. The study showed that most of the respondents agreed that facilitator and content play an important role to contribute to the effectiveness of Student Development Program (PPP). In this research report, we include the finding and from the finding there were some recommendation for improving facilitator skill and program content such as facilitator should expose respondents to the program and content must meet program objective in order to improve the effectiveness of Student Development Program (PPP). Besides that, there are two recommendations for future research such as sampling population and type of data collected. For the conclusion, this study perhaps can attract other researchers to explore much more detail towards this area of the study.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

ASSALAMUALAIKUM w.bt

ALL PRAISE BE UPON ALLAH S.WT

First of all, thank you to Allah S.W.T. Because of His bless, we as a group can accomplish this p research on time. There are many things happen through this journey in order to complete this research. Thank you so much to our beloved lecturer, Tn Hj Abd Razak Said and to our beloved supervisor, En. Mohd Amlı bin Baharum @ Abudllah for their effort, guidelines and advice. Without their sacrificed, we are not sure whether or not we as a group can complete this research in a timely manner and efficient.

Other than that, thank you also to the group members and members in OMB6OA. We are sitting down together and discuss on how to do this research and share information with each other. We are together to help each other if there is any misunderstanding and we try to solve any problem that occur during the way to finished this proposal task.

Thank you to En. Wan Zukri and also Pn. Mahani Ming for their help and cooperation. Without them, maybe it is tough for our group to get any data related to the students in UiTM Jengka Pahang. We get all the information like we want about students from them and we are really appreciate them because even they are do not have enough time, but they are try to help us in order to complete this research successfully.
