ABSTRACT

Much attention has been focused on the relationship between office ergonomic application and job performance, this study aim to identify the level of ergonomic awareness among 150 academic and 150 administrative staff in UiTM Jengka, Pahang. Data were gathered through questionnaires and was being analyzed by using Statistical Package for Social Science (SPSS) version 20.

The major finding shows that high level of ergonomic awareness among academic staff compare to administration staff. Furthermore, the independent variables are found to be among the strongest variable with the ergonomic awareness. Conclusion and recommendation were also discussed.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

In the name of Allah, the Most Beneficent, the Most Merciful and peace be upon our Prophet Muhammad S.A.W.

We would like to take this opportunity to extend our utmost gratitude and sincere appreciation to the following peoples that had made this day a realization. The research had been successfully completed with their help whether directly or indirectly. Our deepest appreciation and thankful go to our supervisor, Encik Mohd Azizul bin Sulaiman. With his endless effort, dedication, patience, advice and support this research could possibly comply with the date line.

Our sincere appreciation also goes to the respective individual, Encik Abd Razak bin Haji Said for his support and assistance to gather data for this research. Not to forget Prof Madya Zulkifli bin Ab Ghani Halim, who helped in matters related to statistics and sharing new knowledge and his view regarding this research.

Also, my thanks and gratitude goes to our classmate BM232 6B and family who has continued to have unwavering support, even in the face of ongoing changes and hold up. Without the endurance, encouragement, love and support and willingness to put up with the stresses, the attainment of this goal would not have been possible or even desirable.
