PREFACE

For this project paper, ADIA 4 students were given the choice to choose for discussion on any topic related to the subject taught. On the writer's part he choose to concentrate on the topic of accounting. Since the writer was sent to do practical training in Island and Peninsular (I&P) Bhd, therefore it is better for him to write something relating to the practical training.

Accounting for property development company, the topic chosen by the writer, was not well known. Only few books and magazines were found in the library and the writer hope to reveal something interesting.

The amount of hours spent on research, interviews and organising material, are indeed worthwhile, it stimulates the mind. It is hope that this project paper will be a great help to graduate students and other interested parties in acquiring additional knowledge in the development of accounting issues.
